Stahls' TV Offers 'Project Press It' Video On Printing Oversized Shirts

See how to cash in on one of this summer's hottest trends with cool metallic heat transfer designs on oversized, short-sleeve shirts in a new video from Stahls' TV. This recent installment in Stahls' new weekly "Project Press It" series takes you through the simple steps in creating shoulder-to-shoulder and vertical graphics that pop on a color-block pompom jersey from Boxercraft. Graphics are created using CAD-CUT® Glaze gold with a vinyl cutter and heat press.

Watch as educator Courtney Kubitza demonstrates the material, tools and easy techniques for custom printing these popular garments, then try it yourself, giving it your own spin, and share your results on Instagram, Facebook and Twitter #ProjectPressIt.
