Stahls' TV Offers 'Project Press It' Video On Multicolor Sublimated Glitter Vinyl

Stahls' TV "Project Press It" series recently added a new video on achieving a multicolor glitter effect using only two colors of vinyl, a heat press, vinyl cutter and sublimation printer.

This step-by-step tutorial covers everything you need to know to replicate this transfer treatment in your own shop. Glitter vinyl is sublimation printed, positioned and applied to create a glittering two-tone multicolor print on an oversized color-block jersey.

It's accompanied by written instructions with tips, tricks and details on the materials, equipment and garments. Check out "Project Press It: Multicolor Sublimated Glitter" at <http://stahlstv.com/project-press-it-multi-color-sublimated-glitter> and subscribe to the Stahls' TV Blog for weekly updates and new applications.

Then join in and put your own touch on the techniques you see and share your photos on Instagram, Facebook and Twitter #ProjectPressIt.

Every Thursday, this series brings you a new take on heat-applied graphics with video tutorials featuring out-of-the-box concepts that "break the rules of heat printing" and give you an edge on your competition. It brings a new dynamic to the live classes, how-to video tutorials and Stahls' weekly TV Morning Show.
