

Tre Tipton

Victoriously Living Inc.

In his younger years, Tre was a highly decorated athlete at Apollo-Ridge High School, where he received an athletic scholarship to attend the University of Pittsburgh.

Tre Tipton had served as a wide receiver for the University of Pittsburgh for seven years, where he grew his motivation to help others. His passion for people during his athletic career earned him many awards during his career at PITT. Some of these awards included the Wilma Rudolph Student Athlete Achievement award and the 2021 Disney Spirit Award, which is given to the most inspiring college football athlete. Most recently, Tipton was also nominated for the 2021 Capital One Orange Bowl FWAA Courage Award, for his courage to tell his story of his advocacy toward changing the stigma about mental health. Now, Tre Tipton is currently the co-founder and CEO of an Organization called L.O.V.E, or Living Out Victoriously Everyday., which is a peer group made to support individuals through adversity. A champion of mental health, Tipton founded the peer group to support Pitt student athletes in their experiences of overcoming adversity through his 5-week program he had created. For his work in the community and his organization Tre has also received awards such as the Heart of A Panther award presented by Pitt, the All-State Good Works Team award, and the 2019 Freddie Solomon Community Spirit Award.

During his time at Pitt, Tipton earned a bachelor's degree in communication as well as a master's degree in social work. Since then, Tre has started his speaking career and has spoken to over 15+ schools about his mental adversities and the struggles he faced growing up. He has goals to impact as many people as he can to help them improve their mental strength.

Keynote Topic:

Tre's story tells of the tough trials that he faced, and how he was able to overcome those challenges. His story tells of a young individual who had to find strength throughout his life to maintain balance and peace. He spent his collegiate career playing football for the University of Pittsburgh, where he faced depression, anxiety, and pain while playing. This led him to create the organization called “L.O.V.E” Aka (Living. Out. Victoriously. Everyday). Although he faced many trials and tribulations he has been able to find positivity in his life and continues to motivate others to do the same. His goal in his speeches is to bring positivity to the audience everywhere he goes.
